may use all your gifts well.*

It's Official! Mended Hearts and the American College of Cardiology Join Hands to Reach Mutual Goals

In February, the Mended Hearts National Board of Directors reviewed highlights of a newly signed Letter of Agreement between The Mended Hearts, Inc. and the American College of Cardiology (ACC) to further the goals of both organizations. As a reminder, the Board of Directors in mid-2010 developed a set of principles for aligning with an anchor organization, including maintaining our independent, 501(c)(3) status, maintaining our current volunteer and staff structure, increasing revenue to build both the MHI and MLH programs, and optimizing synergies inherent in each of the organizations, among several others. The Agreement meets all of these principles. MHI staff met with ACC staff in mid-February to develop a communications plan for announcing the alliance to both internal and external audiences. Stay tuned for more details.
